QUESTION OF DATES RESULT IN DIVORCE

Indiana Harbor Wife Has Her Views on What She Thinks She Ought to Do.

Jennie Kryger, 3904 Cedar street, Indiana Harbor, believed she had enough to do if she attended to her household duties and took care of her children. Her husband, Stanley, thought she might just as well be running their dry goods store while he worked in the steel mill. The disagreement has led to the filing of a petition for divorce by Mrs. Kryger in the Hammond Superior court. They were married May 8, 1917, and separated May 22, 1920. Under the abuse and threats of her husband, she says she attended to the store for a long time, but that the household duties made the store work too burdensome, so she has left her husband. She asks for the custody of the two children and asks also, that the husband be enjoined from selling any of the property which they hold jointly. Her attorneys are Shearer & White.

BURNS IS AGAIN RAIDED

William E. Burns, colored, ex-police man, baseball team manager and gambling house owner, is "in again."

Burns is a former member of the Gary police department. Some months ago he informed the patrons of his alleged gambling house, a rendezvous for the colored gamblers of the steel city, "that he was protected and didn't need to fear a pinch."

Then the police heard of Burns' boasting and promised to raid the place at the first opportunity. They planned time after time to raid the place, but it seemed that every time they got ready the tables, cards, dice and other paraphernalia of a gambling house would disappear. It was learned that the players in the rear were being tipped off by a bell system as the police entered the place.

But the police were not to be outwitted and after weeks of waiting were rewarded for their effort. Burns and a number of gamblers were given a ride to the police station and booked on charges of gambling.

Before Judge Dunn in the city court he was released after paying a light fine, but only to start up the game again. The police kept their eyes open and yesterday conducted another raid, arresting Burns for conducting a gambling house and 13 other men on a charge of gambling.

PROGRESS ON HEARINGS IS VERY SLOW

come up here and spend hours of valuable time on these contests. We see the same faces every year. The same factions from Southern states are seen here year after year. And all this time is spent upon states which have never delivered one electoral vote to the republican party.

DISCOURAGING REBELLION
The Louisiana case was practically disposed of by the committee's denial of a petition to re-open the case. Twelve delegates are involved.

The contests from Georgia, with 17 delegates; Florida with 8; Minnesota with two; Missouri with 4; Mississippi with 12; North Carolina with 22 and Oklahoma with 6 were taken up by the committee today. There is a manifest desire to be "regular and discourage rebelling factions."

GEORGIA CASE INVOLVED

The national committee today reaffirmed its decision regarding the Louisiana delegation by unanimously voting to seat the so-called Kuntz-Cohen "regular" faction. A majority of the Louisiana delegates is claimed by Wood, although Lowden also claims a few of them.

The Georgia contest was again taken up and found to be so involved that arriving at a speedy decision was declared impossible. A sub-committee was appointed to investigate this contest worked until late Tuesday night that additional time was needed to investigate affidavits and other documentary evidence. Another committee was appointed to assist in this work. Raymond Benjamin, state central committeeman from California, was appointed to aid this committee.

NEW DRIVE FOR DELEGATES

With the G. O. P. convention less than a week off and the choice of the republicans in such profound doubt that the most partisan supporters of so-called favorites admit the fight belongs to any man, the second desperate drive for delegates has begun.

So determined is the battle that practically every one of the political contenders may appear upon the scene to lead his own particular contingent in person. It was announced today from his headquarters here that Herbert Hoover might come to Chicago between now and next Tuesday, though if he came he would not stay for the big show.

WOOD SEES REPORTERS

Gen. Leonard Wood today began his negotiations with his Congress Hotel headquarters with an audience to newspapermen.

Gov. Lowden is already in Chicago, and Senator Hiram Johnson will arrive at noon tomorrow to be followed later in the week by Senator Borah, his supporter from Idaho.

Other presidential candidates are expected to hasten here or send their fighting lieutenants to carry on the contest for delegates of the convention in the metropolis of his home state is regarded as being in his favor.

JOHNSON'S FRIENDS BUSY

So retiring is he that it was stated at his headquarters today that unless something happens to make him change his plans, he will leave Chicago for Springfield at the end of the week and not return until after the convention.

The friends of Hiram Johnson, on the other hand, are coming out with bands and marching clubs and parades. The senator is expected here tomorrow at 11:45 p. m. The Johnson Illinois Club, the Johnson Cook County Club, and other Johnson organizations will be at the LaSalle st. station to meet him and with them will be the familiar band.

Buy From the House that Always Makes Good

Only the Cylinder Washer is 100% Efficient

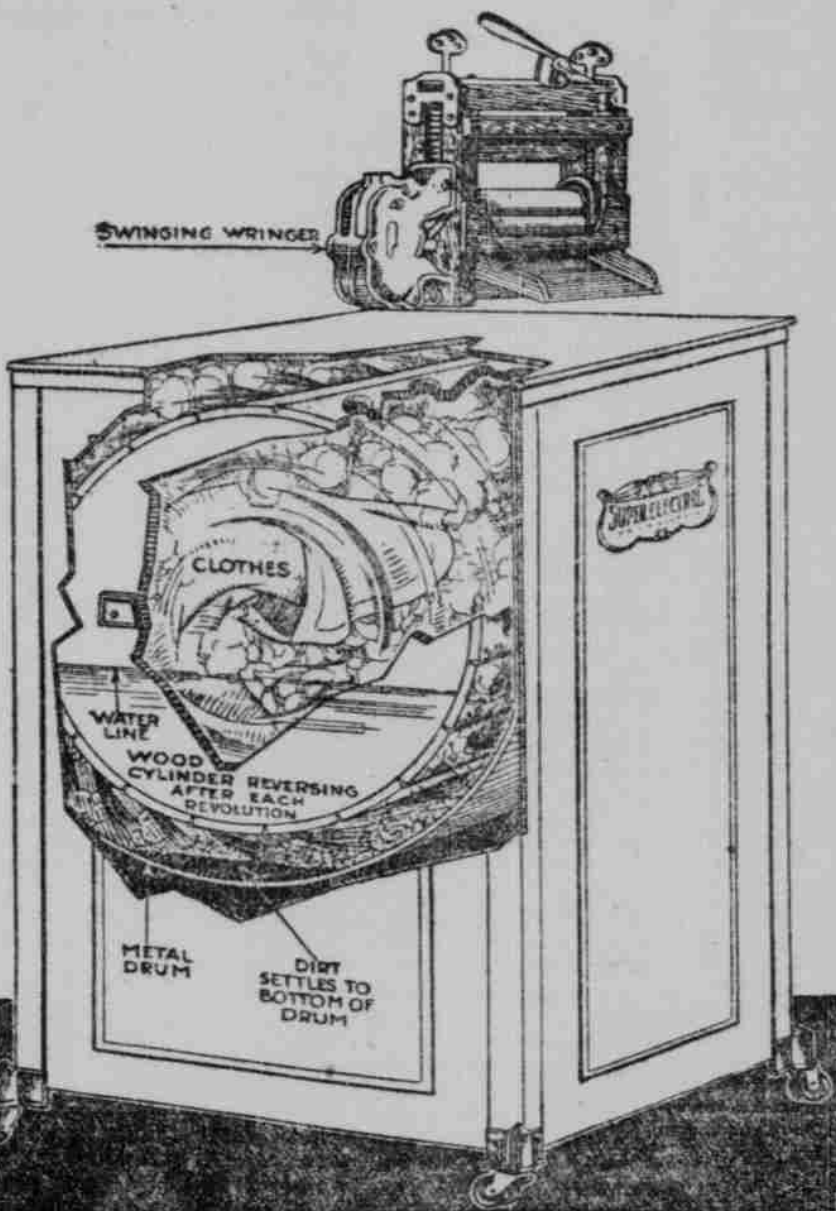

There are many types of electric washing machines being offered to the public. All of them undoubtedly wash clothes, or they would cease to exist. The leading laundry engineers, however, universally recommend the revolving-cylinder type as the most thoroughly efficient principle.

The A B C Super Electric Cabinet Washing Machine is the most modern, complete example of the perfected cylinder-type construction. Its white maple cylinder forces the water through the clothes 44 times per minute—removes every vestige of dirt in an almost incredibly short time and your clothes come out spotlessly clean—ready to be wrung out, to be rinsed in blue water, and hung out to dry.

All washing machines used in public laundries the world over are of the cylinder type.

Washing clothes is the laundry's sole business. If another type of washing machine were equally efficient, wouldn't it be used in some laundries at least?

SAFETY FIRST

Here is the only absolutely safe washing machine yet produced. Note how all parts are encased. No gears or wheels to soil or tear your clothes. No danger of injury to children or pets. It's the
